

ACTIVIST • TRUTH-SEEKER • SERVANT ROBIN GREENFIELD

“The Robin Hood of Modern Times” – France 2

Robin Greenfield is a truth-seeker, activist, social reformer and servant to Earth, humanity and the plants and animals we share our home with. At the heart of Robin’s action-based philosophy is his dedication to living simply and sustainably to be the change he wishes to see in the world.

Robin’s public activism involves dramatic gestures designed to reach the mainstream and to provoke critical thought, self-reflection and positive change. His message stimulates nuanced conversations on the critical issues of our time, with a focus on solutions for living in harmony.

His life’s work has gained international recognition by media and he has been named “The Robin Hood of Modern Times” by France 2 TV and “The Forrest Gump of Ecology”. He has taken part in 1,000+ interviews including with National Geographic, People Magazine, BBC, CBS This Morning, USA Today, LA Times, and The Guardian to name a few.

Robin has hosted a six-episode series on Discovery Channel and is the author of multiple books. He is an international speaker and has delivered three popular TEDx talks in London, Paris and Los Angeles.

Robin donates 100% of his media earnings to grassroots nonprofits, with a focus on supporting Black and Indigenous women-led organizations.
